Use Your Trusted Bank Credentials for Government of Canada Services

SecureKey Concierge has partnered with Canada's largest banks so consumers can use their trusted bank credentials to secure access to many federal e-gov services at no cost.

What is SecureKey Concierge?

SecureKey Concierge provides a secure, privacy-enhancing service that conveniently connects people to critical online services using an approved digital credential they already have and trust. Traditionally people have had to create application-specific logins and passwords to access information and conduct transactions through online services. SecureKey allows an individual to access online services by signing in with an approved third-party credential provider. This eliminates the need for consumers to maintain multiple logins for online services.

SecureKey Concierge allows consumers to login to online government services – such as Service Canada, Canada Revenue Agency, etc. – with their bank login. SecureKey Concierge operates independently of its partner banks and the Government of Canada to respect consumers' privacy. Their name, address, date of birth, PIN and other personal information stays safely with their bank, ensuring that no personal data is ever provided to the government sites during login.

66% of Canadians forget passwords for websites not visited regularly.
